We recognize that you choose visit the Sites and we consider your privacy and the security of your personal information to be very important. We appreciate your trust in maintaining the security of your personal information, and we want you to know what information we collect and why.

Throughout this Privacy Policy, we make reference to your Personally Identifiable Information (“PII”) that we collect. This denotes information about you as an individual, such that your identity can be reasonably ascertained. Your name, home address and home telephone number are examples of PII.

There occur certain interactions within the Sites, such as choosing to receive email updates, for which we collect information necessary to undertake such action (e.g. name and email address). If you prefer not to disclose PII, you can still enjoy other areas of the Sites; however we may collect additional information that is not personally identifying (“Non-PII”). “Cookies” and your Internet Protocol (IP) Address are examples of Non-PII, and they are discussed in further detail below.

By the Sites or using the Service, you accept the practices set forth in this Privacy Policy. Please read it carefully before using the Service. If you do not agree to this Privacy Policy, you may not access or otherwise use the Sites. The Sites are also subject to the Terms of Use.

INFORMATION WE COLLECT

We receive and store information you give us when you visit the Sites. You provide such information when you search, post, email us or otherwise communicate with the Service. For example, we collect information when you: provide information in Your Account / Profile; send us email requests for products or communicate with us by email for any auxiliary purpose; complete a questionnaire, and; utilize Personal Notification Services. You can choose not to provide certain information, but you might not be able to use many of the Sites features.

We use the information that you provide us to: fulfill transactions; respond to your requests; improve our Service, and; communicate with you. We DO NOT sell your PII to third parties or mass marketers. Unless you consent to the disclosure of your PII, only we and our affiliates, technical consultants, third-party administrators and other third parties who make our Service available, enhance its functionality, or provide associated services, have access to this information. For example, we may work with agents to analyze data, operate promotions, provide marketing assistance, and/or provide customer service. They have access to information needed to perform their functions, but may not use it for other purposes.

From time to time, we may collect general, non-personal, statistical information (i.e. Non-PII) about the use of the Sites. We employ cookies and use Google Analytics to gather anonymous information about our users and their interactions with the Sites. Examples include the capture of visitors' IP addresses, computer and connection information such as browser type, version, and time zone setting, how long visitors stay on a specific page, and which hyperlinks, if any, visitors "click" on. We use this information in the aggregate to compile data trends, define most popular areas of interest and otherwise analyze the performance of our Service. Please rest assured that this aggregate data will in no way personally identify you or any other visitors to the Sites. An IP address is a number that's automatically assigned to your computer whenever you're surfing the Web, and can be used to identify your computer. However, when we collect IP addresses and do so in an aggregate fashion, this occurs in a way that does not identify you personally.

While using the Service, you may have opportunities to post information in public forums. An example would be responding to consumer surveys, the results of which are published in the aggregate for all visitors to the Sites to review. Be advised that any information you personally submit, whether PII or Non-PII, is made public and is not subject to this Privacy Policy. We are not responsible for any third party's use of PII that you may publicly disclose through our service.

COOKIES

Like many web sites, the Sites may transfer cookies to your computer's hard drive. Cookies are alphanumeric identifiers that function with your web browser and that enable our systems to recognize it and improve your visit to the Sites. For example, cookies may enable us to recognize your specific browser and offer you a personalized greeting when you visit the Sites or to inform us of what browser you are using. The Help function on most browsers will tell you how to prevent your browser from accepting new cookies, display a notification that your browser is receiving new cookies, erase cookies, or disable cookies altogether. We recommend that you permit cookies from our Sites because in many instances cookies allow you to make use of many of the Sites features.

LINKS TO OTHER SITES

This Service may, on occasion, provide links that direct you away from the Sites to another website. These third-party websites are not operated by us and are beyond our control. We do not share any of your PII with these websites. These websites may send their own cookies to you, independently collect data, or solicit personal information. When visiting these websites, you are subject to their privacy policies, and we encourage you to read them as well as any terms of use or service. We are not responsible for the privacy practices of these other websites and we cannot guarantee the security of any of your PII collected there. Addresses or content of these websites may change without prior notice, however when we become aware of these changes, we will remove links to websites that no longer meet our approval.

DISCLOSURE OF YOUR INFORMATION

We reserve the right to release account and other PII when: we believe release is appropriate to comply with the law; at the request of any judicial, administrative or similar proceeding such as a subpoena; to investigate suspected fraud, harassment, physical threats, or other violations of any law, rule or regulation; protect the rights, property, or safety of the Sites, our users, or others, or; to enforce or apply our Terms of Use and other agreements.

BUSINESS TRANSFERS

As our business continues to grow, we may acquire or sell a business. With such a transaction, customer information generally is one of the transferred assets but remains subject to the promises made in any pre-existing Privacy Policy. In the event that TTRP or substantially all of its assets are acquired, customer information will of course be one of the transferred assets.

CHOICES YOU HAVE

You can always choose not to share certain information with us, even though it may not allow you to access many of the Sites features. You can add or update personal information within your account, and you can disable cookies as discussed above.

By electing to receive emails from us, you permit us to send you exclusive information and special offers which you may otherwise not learn about. If at any time you desire to unsubscribe from receiving future emails from us, you can choose to “opt-out” of these emails by following the instructions located at the bottom of these emails.

As per these Terms, persons under the age of 13 are not permitted to access the Sites. We do not intentionally seek to sell anything to, influence, collect information from or otherwise address individuals 13 years of age and younger, nor do we knowingly collect personal information from children under 13 through the Service.
